

My

Butterfly

Journal

September 23, 2015

Day 1

Today I got 2 larvae

caterpillars. They are about 1 cm long. Their names are John and sebastian. I like these names because I got them from my name.

September 24, 2015

Day 2

Today I learned that caterpillars stay in there crisier for like 5 days. I also learned that they lay eggs under a leaf.

September 29, 2015

Day 7

My catipiler is about 2 inches. My catipilers are very hairy. one of mine is in a J. The other catipiler is on the side.

October 1, 2015

Day 9

I learned from Mrs. Wachtel the pupa can shake by its self. My catipitter is in a J. It is going into a J.

October 2, 2015

Page 6

I think my citipiller will be in a pupa on Monday. My catip it going to the top.

October 5, 2015

Days

One of my larva is in a pupa
My other one is in a J. I am very happy that mine is in a chrysalis and I am proud.
I am also really happy that one of mine is in a J. I am still proud that I am a Father of my larva.

October 13, 2015

Day 4

Today my larva butterfly has hatched out of its pupa. I learned that they move their wings up and down to dry.
They look different than I expected

October 16, 2015

Day 24

Yesterday we let the larvae go some did not want to leave. today we still have some pupae. Yesterday a couple came out of their pupae.